THE QUEEN'S MATRIMONIAL LADDER,

A Mational Toy,

WITH FOURTEEN STEP SCENES:

AND

ILLUSTRATIONS IN VERSE,

WITH EIGHTEEN OTHER CUIS.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "THE POLITICAL HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT."

"The question is not merely whether the Queen shall have her rights, but whether the rights of any individual in the kingdom shall be tree from violation."

Her Majesty's Answer to the Norwich Address.

" Here is a Gentleman, and a friend of mine!"

Measure for Measure.

Fifteenth Edition.

LONDON:

PRINTED BY AND FOR WILLIAM HONE, LUDGATE-HILL.

1820.

This Pumphiet and the Toy together,

HC911 1820. H662

'It is a wonderful thing to consider the strength of Princes' wills when they are bent to have their Pleasure fulfilled, wherein no reasonable persuasions will serve their turn: how little do they regard the dangerous sequels, that may ensue as well to themselves as to their Subjects. And amongst all things there is nothing that makes them more wilful than Carnal Love, and various affecting of voluptuous desires.'

Cavendish's Memoirs of Card. Wolsey.

NOTE.

All the Drawings for this Publication are
By MR. GEORGE CRUIKSHANK.

Give not thy strength unto women, nor thy ways to that which destroyeth lings.

Solomon.

QUALIFICATION.

In love, and in drink, and o'ertoppled by debt; With women, with wine, and with duns on the fret.

Penury incurr'd

By endless riot, vanity, the lust

Of pleasure and variety!———.

—————Ministerial grace

Deals him out money from the public chest.

Courper.

DECLARATION.

The Prodigal Son, by his perils surrounded, Vex'd, harass'd, bewilder'd, asham'd, and confounded,

Fled for help to his Father, confessed his ill doing,

And begged for salvation

from stark staring ruin;

The sire urged—" The People

your debts have twice paid,

" And, to ask a third time,

even Pitt is afraid;

- "But he shall if you'll marry, and lead a new life,-
- "You've a cousin in Germany—make her your wife!"

Lured from her own, her native home,

The home of early life,

And doom'd in stranger realms to roam;

A widow! yet a wife!

Phillips's Lament.

ACCEPTATION.

From the high halls of Brunswick, all youthful and gay,

From the hearth of her fathers, he lured her away:

How joy'd she in coming-

how smiling the bower;

How sparkling their nuptialshow welcome her dower.

Ah! short were her pleasures—full soon came her cares—

Her husbandless bride-bed was wash'd with her tears.

The most desolate woman in the world!

Thy daughter, then, could hear thee weep; But now she sleeps the dreamless sleep.

Phillips's Lament.

ALTERATION.

Near a million of debts gone, all gone were her charms—

What! an Epicure have his own wife in his arms?

She was not to his taste—
what car'd he for the 'form,'

'To love and to cherish'

could not mean reform:

'To love' meant, of course, nothing else but neglect;—

'To cherish' to leave her,
and shew disrespect.

The victim up to shame.

Phillips's Lament.

IMPUTATION.

Was it manly, when widow'd,

to spy at her actions;

To listen to eaves-droppers,

whisp'ring detractions;

And, like an old WATCHMAN, with faults to conceal,

Get up a false Charge,

as a proof of his zeal?

If desertion was base, Oh base be his name,

Who, having deserted, would bring her to shame!

God, and your Majesty, protect mine innocence !

King Henry VIII.

EXCULPATION.

Undaunted in spirit, her courage arose,
With encrease of charges, and encrease of foes.
Despising the husband,

who thus had abused her, She proved to his father,

his son had ill used her:—
Her conduct examin'd, and sifted, shone bright,
Her enemies fled, as the shadows of night.

——— A wanderer, far away,

Neglected and reviled—

Phillips's Lament.

EMIGRATION.

Her father and king, while with reason yet blest,
Protected her weakness, and shielded her rest;
Infirmity seizes him, false friends draw near,
Then spies gather round, and malignants appear;
And cajole, wait, watch,

insult, alarm, and betray,
Till from home, and her daughter,
they force her away.

REMIGRATION.

Still pursued, when a 'wanderer,'
her child sleeps in death,
And her best friend, in England, her king,
yields his breath;

This gives her new rights-

they neglect and proscribe her;
She threatens returning—they then try to bribe her!
The bullies turn slaves, and, in meanness, fawn on her:
They feel her contempt, and they vow her dishonour;
But she 'steers her own course,' comes indignantly over,

And the shouts of the nation salute her at Dover!

He smelt - O Lord! how he did smell!

Southey's Miner Poems, vol. iii. p. 10kl.

CONSTERNATION.

Ah, what was that groan!—
'twas the Head of the Church.

When he found she was come—

for he dreaded a search

Into what he'd been doing:

and sorely afraid, for

What she might find out, cried 'I'll not have her pray'd for';

And the B——ps, obeying their pious Head, care took

That the name of his wife should be out of the prayer book!

" —— A BURNING SHAME!"

Thou hast made me a cuckold.

(As poisonous tongued as handed) hath prevailed On thy too ready hearing?

Cymbeline.

ACCUSATION.

On searching for precedents, much to their dread,

They found that they could n't well cut off her head;

And the 'House of Incurables' raised a 'Report' She was not a fit person to live in his Court.

How like an OLD CHARLEY

they then made him stand.

In his lanthorn a leech,

the 'Report' in his hand.

- ' Good folks be so good as not go near that door
- ' For, though my own wife, she is-I could say more
- ' But it's all in this Bag, and there'll be a fine pother,
- 'I shall get rid of her, and I'll then get another!'

Yet he thought, to himself,-

'twas a thought most distressing,-

' If she should discover

I've been M-ch-ss-g,

'There's an end of the whole!

D-rs C-ns, of course,

' If my own hands are dirty,

won't grant a D-ce!'

He tried to look wise, but he only look'd wild; The women laugh'd out, and the grave even smiled; The old frown'd upon him-the children made sport, And his wife held her ridicule at his 'Report'!

MORAL.

Be warn'd by his fate Married, single, and all; Ye elderly Gentlemen, Pity his fall!

Give me but the Liberty of the Press, and I will give to the minister a venal House of Peets.

Sheridan.

PUBLICATION.

As you bright orb, that vivifies our ball, Sees through our system, and illumines all; So, sees and shines, our Moral Sun, The Press, Alike to vivify the mind, and bless;

Sees the rat Leech turn towards Milan's walls,

'Till the black slime betrays him as he crawls;'

Sees, from that recreant, vile, and eunuch-land,

Where felon-perjurers hold their market-stand,

Cooke, with his 'cheek of parchment, eye of stone,'

Get up the evidence, to go well down;

Sees who, with eager hands, the Green Bag cram,

And warns the nation of the frightful flam;

Sees Him, for whom they work the treacherous task.

With face, scarce half conceal'd, behind their mask, Fat, fifty-eight, and frisky, still a beau, Grasping a half-made match, by Leech-light go; Led by a passion, prurient, blind, and batter'd, Lame, bloated, pointless, flameless, age'd and shatter'd;

Creeping, like Guy Fawkes, to blow up his wife, Whom, spurn'd in youth, he dogs through after-life.

Scorn'd, exited, baffled, goaded in distress,
She owes her safety to a fearless Press:
With all the freedom that it makes its own,
It guards, alike, the people and their throne;
While fools with darkling eye-balls shun its gaze,
And soaring villains scorch beneath its blaze.

I am wrapp'd in dismat thinkings!-

THE KING, in All's well that ends well.

INDIGNATION.

The day will soon come, when ' the Judge and the Ponderer,'

Will judge between thee, and the charge-daring 'Wanderer;'

Will say-'Thou who cast the first stone at thy wife,

Art thou without sin, and is spotless thy life?'

Ah! what if thy faults should 'outrival the sloe,'

And thy wife's, beside thine, should look 'whiter than snow'!

Bethink thee! the old British Lion awoke,
Turns indignant, and treads out thy bag-full of smoke.
Spurn thy minions—the traitors, who counsel thee,
banish;

And the soldiers will quickly forget all their Spanish!

" Le Roy le veut " G. R.

See Blackstone's Com. b. 1. c. 2.

CORONATION.

Shakspeare says, in King John, it's a curse most abhorrent,

That 'Slaves take the humours of Kings for a warrant.' A more useful truth never fell from his pen,

If Kings would apply it like sober-bred men.

The Slaves of your will,

will make your reign, in History,

A misrule of force, folly, taxing, and mystery:

Indulging your wish for what, with law, 's incompatible,

For the present, they've render'd your crown not come-at-able;

And the tongues of old women and infancy wag, With, 'He call'd for his crown—and they gave him the Bag!

DEGRADATION.

To this have they brought thee, at last!

Exposed thee, for all men to see!

Ah, surely, their pandering shall quickly be past:—

'How wretched their portion shall be!

' Derision shall strike them forlorn,

'A mockery that never shall die:

'The curses of hate and the hisses of scorn,

'Shall follow wherever they fly;

'And proud o'er their ruin

for ever be hurl'd,

'The laughter of triumph,

the jeers of the world!'

THE END

" Cets' Meat!"

I say, HUM, how fares it with Royalty now?

Is it up?—Is it prime?—Is it spooney?—or how?

The Fudge Family.

THE JOSS AND HIS FOLLY,

An Extract of an overland Dispatch.

I stare at it from out my casement, And ask for what is such a place meant.

Byron.

July 29, 1820.

The queerest of all the queer sights
I've set sight on;—
Is, the what dye-call-t thing, here,
The Folly at Brighton

The outside—huge teapots,
all drill'd round with holes,

Relieved by extinguishers, sticking on poles:

The inside—all tea-things, and dragons, and bells,

The show rooms—all show,
the sleeping rooms—cells.

But the grand Curiosity

's not to be seen-

The owner himself—

an old fat MANDARIN;

A patron of painters

who copy designs,

That grocers and tea-dealers

hang up for signs:

Hence teaboard-taste artists

gain rewards and distinction,

Hence his title of 'TEAPOT'

I saw his great chair

into which he falls-soss-

And sits, in his CHINA SHOP,

like a large Joss;

-l--11 1----

His mannikins round him,

in tea-tray array,

His pea-hens beside him,

to make him seem gay.

It is said when he sleeps on his state Eider-down,

And thinks on his Wife,

and about half a Crown;

That he wakes from these horrible dreams in a stew;

And that, stretching his arms out, he screams, Mrs. Q.!

He 's cool'd on the M—ch—ss, but I'm your debtor

For further particulars—

in a C letter.

You must know that he hates his own wife, to a failing;—

And it's thought, it's to shun her, he's now gone out SAILING.

A living teapot stands, one arm held out, One bent; the handle this, and that the spout.

PORTRAIT, In one Volume Octavo, 8s.

 Eloquence has perhaps never suffered a decper loss than by the imperfect manner in which the Speeches of this immortal Orator have been collected. The present edition embodies all his relics, and contains seven full speeches, with two extracts, in no other Collection. These grand efforts of oratorical genins leave the reader's mind in awful astonishment at the daring honesty of the intrepid advocate, and disclose scenes of incredible profligacy in the Irish Parliament, where the majestic figure of the Patriot rose in sublime and solitary pre-eminence. With Curran all is fire and energy. And these qualities, seconded by his honesty, fruitlessly exerted in his country's cause, make him exhibit in the midst of her expiring liberties, that most interesting of all human spectacles, "A Great Man struggling with the Storms of Fate." — If Genius, Integrity, Courage, and Perseverance could have redeemed Ireland from thraldom, Curran would have been known to posterity in the character of her saviour.

THE APOCRYPHAL NEW TESTAMENT, being all the Gospels, Episties, and other Pieces extant, attributed in the first four Centuries, to Jesus Christ, his Apostles, and their Companions, and not included in the New Testament by its Compilers. POLITICAL ESSAYS, WITH SKETCHES OF PUBLIC CHA-RACTERS, by WILLIAM HAZLITT, handsomely printed in one large Volume Ociaro, 14s.

" Come, draw the curtain-shew the Picture." This Series of energetic Essays is well described in the opening sentences of the preface: "I am no Politician, and still less can I be said to be a party-"man; but I have a hatred of Tyranny, and a contempt for its Tools; and "this feeling I have expressed as often and as strongly as I could .- I have "no mind to have my person made a property of, nor my Understanding made a Dupe of."—The Publisher conscientiously affirms, that there is more O iginal and just Thinking, luminously expressed in this Volume, than in any other Work of a living Author.

MURRAY'S SERMONS TO ASSES, TO DOCTORS IN DIVINI-TY, to LORDS SPIRITUAL, and to MINISTERS OF STATE, with the Anthor's Life and Portrait,—Civil and Religious involvrance were never more successfully exposed and ridiculed than by the close reasoning and sarcastic irony in these extremely able pieces. They are are now first collected into one large volume; and form an Encyclopedia of Political truths, abounding with wit and humour, and the severest invectives of glowing patriotism.—8vo. 8s.

CURIOUS AND AUTHENTIC NARRALIVES AND ANECDOTES respecting Extraordinary Characters; Illustrative of the tendency of Credulity and Fanaticism; exemplifying the Imperfections of Circumstantial Evidence; and recording singular instances of voluntary Human Suffering, and Interesting Occurrences. By JOHN CECIL, Esq. In Foolscap-octavo. With an Historical Plate, 6s.

This is a most interesting little volume, either at home or abroad, and so entertaining and select, in its facts and language, as to render it a very agreeable
